Statistics in the city of Rushville some interesting facts, and especially so at the office of Dr. J. B. Kinsinger, city health officer, who reports a clean record of contagious diseases for the month.

For a city of 6,000 inhabitants it is remarkable to think that the month would go by without a single case of some kind of contagion. November as a rule has a great deal of sickness, and in the last two years influenza has been reported in this month but so far there has not been a case reported. During the month of October there were three cases of contagion reported.

The records at the city health office also show that during November there were two deaths and four births in Rushville. The two deaths were babies under the age of six months, not an adult expiring in Rushville during the month.

Senator Penrose further indicated that no advantage could be gained by repealing the excess profits tax at the coming session, as Congress undoubtedly would not favor repeal-For almost every two marriage is unchanged under the compromise. ing the tax for the calendar year They contended that they should 1920, and there was sufficient time ther couple would step in and want have the estate by reason of the to repeal it at the special session, when other features of the revenue father's farm on the shares for ten law would be considered and general revision might be undertaken.

There is such a demand from business men for repeal of the excess profits tax, supplemented by the recommendations of Treasury officials that there is reason to believe that Congress will not delay action until the whole subject of tax revision can be undertaken. It is the opinion of those concerned with taxation atters that this tax will be repealed early in the special session so that the tax need not be collected for 1921. This must be done in the summer of 1921, or, according to Secretary Houseton, it will be necessary to collect the tax for that calendar

What is puzzling the authorities is how to find a substitute for this tax. There is no argument against its repeal. In the Ways and Means Committee last session, R. C. Leffingwell, then Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, suggested that the income tax might be increased to provide revenues coming from excess profits. Another suggestion is to repeal the profits tax without trying to supply another source of revenue to take its place. In such a case the expenditures of Government must be reduced to a minimum. If this is done, it is argued, there will be sufficent revenue to meet ordinary expenses of Government, but not to redeem the Treasury certificates and Victory notes in 1923, amounting in all to about $8,000,000,000.

Greensburg Man Picks up $100 Worth Belonging to Dr. Smullen

Dr. L. C. Smullen of Raleigh has recovered a valuable set of surgeon's tools, which he lost out of his machine one day this week on the road between Lewisville and Raleigh. Carl Mitchell of Greensburg picked up the bag and after examining the contents found that the only identification was the initial "S" on the linen towels. Mr. Mitchell thought that they belonged to the Sexton Hospital and brought them here, but they were not identified, and he took them to his home in Greensburg. An account of the valuable find was mentioned in a Greensburg paper last evening and Rushville Furniture Co. and a friend of Dr. Smullen notified him today. The kit was valued at $100 and Dr. Smullen today was preparing to make a new purchase, as the practice.

Local Farmers' Opportunity

It is in truth a chance of a lifetime because another national convention of farmers will not be held in such close proximity to Rush county for many years.

The Associated Advertising Clubs of the world met in Indianapolis last summer and brought to that city the greatest gathering of business men ever assembled. The business men of Rushville did not then appreciate their opportunity and the convention was very poorly attended by them.

It is up to the farmers of Rush county to show that they want to move forward, that they are willing to absorb new ideas, by attending

Dear! what a tiny stocking! It doesn't take much to hold Such little pink toes as baby's Away from the frost and cold. But, then, for the baby's Christmas It will never do at all; Why, Santa wouldn't be looking For anything half so small.

I know what will do fer the baby-I've thought of the very best plan-I'll borrow a stocking of grandma, The longest that ever I can; And you'll hang it by mine, dear mother. Right here in the corner so: And write a letter to Santa. And fasten it on the toe.

Write, "This is the baby's stocking That hangs in the corner here. You never have seen her, Santa, For she only came last year. But she's just the blessedest baby! And, now, before you go, Just cram her stocking with goodies From the top clean down to the toe."

INDEPENDENTS HOLD THE FIRST PRACTICE

Eleven Candidates Appear to Make Bid For Berth on Recently Organized Odd Fellows Five

FIRST GAME FRIDAY NIGHT

The Odd Fellows basketball team held their first practice last night in the Modern Appliance building and eleven candidates were out to make a bid for a berth on the quintet. The team will play their first game Friday night with the Moscow and on Saturday night will play at Fairview. Both games will be away from home, and the first game here will be on Tuesday night, with the Carthage Independents.

. The prospects are bright for a winning team here and the new gymnasium equals any in this part of the state, the building being thoroughly remodeled. Bleachers which will accommodate 600 people have been erected, and the lighting system changed. Two large stoves also will provide the heat.

The team will carry a full string of players, and only the best teams in the state will be booked later on, including the Em-Roes, Columbus, Greensburg, Connersville, Richmond and Kokomo. The games here will not conflict with the high school schedule. A plan is being started to have the high school team and the Odd Fellows team play a benefit game in the near future, 'the proceeds of which will be given over to the Red Cross Seal cam-

The Most Competitive Business in the World

-said Judge Fred W. Freeman recently. Continuing, he added: "The oil business today in all its phases from production to refining, to marketing, is the most competitive business in the world."

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is but one of 16,000 organizations interested in the petroleum industry in the United States. Each of these is performing a useful service or it would not be in business. Competition eliminates the unfit in the oil business, as it eliminates the unfit in every other line of endeavor.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is here today because it has made good.

The energy of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is concentrated on making good in a big, constructive way.

The territory served is probably the most important farming territory in the world. The Company's opportunity for service is great, and the need for its service is ever present.

Every year the farmers of the Middle West need petroleum products in greater volume. They demand products of standard quality, delivered at regular intervals and at reasonable prices. Only through a complete organization of men, trained by years of experience, can so complicated and important a service be rendered.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is such an organization, and by concentrated, co-ordinated effort, from refiner to tank wagon delivery, it is able to render a service to the farmers and others who depend on the Company for material which enables them to perform tasks essential to the public welfare.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is directed by a group of seven business men, trained in every phase of the oil industry, and is operated by 23,000 loyal men and women, who are devoting their lives to the business.

Its owners, the stockholders, are 5526 in number. no one of whom owns as much as 10 percent of the total stock.

Any one may become a part owner in this Com pany, by buying its stock in the open market.

DENIES ACCUSATIONS MADE BY COMMITTEE

R. Wilmer Bolling Brother-in-law of President Wilson Testifies Before Congressional Committee

NEVER RECEIVED BRIBE

New York, Dec. 1-R. Wilmer Bolling, brother-in-law of President Wilson, sweepingly denied the accusations made by the congressional committee investigating the shipping board, that he had ever received a bribe in the placing of board con-

The direct relation with Tucker Sands, former cashier of the Commercial Bank of Washington, he said, seemed to have been responsible for starting of the rumors of the alleged bribe. Bolling stated that he had received anonymous letters throughout the year of 1919 after he had refused to intervene with President Wilson in behalf of Sands who was about to be or had been indicted on charges made by bank examiners

He said Sands called him by telephone in the year 1919 and urged him to help Sand. He said he visited the bank officials and then he was urged to intervene with the president. Sands seemed to be greatly adjutant.

"It is then I took him to see Senator Owen, of Oklahoma," he said. The senator sympathized with him but said he could do nothing.

Bolling stated that while he was in Europe anonymous letters were received by McAdoo, which directed him to ask Bolling about the $40,000 which he received from the shipping board. It was signed "M", Bolling in the steel plants have been thrown into idleness. The labor scarcity in the last few months has vanished, the report stated. Men are waiting it the gate seeking employment every morning.

Those engaged in the building ines are 50 percent out of work. Workmen who have been attracked from the farms to other industries where they paid higher wages are returning to their homes.

But so far the idleness of men has not relieved the situation on the farm where men are receiving high prices for shucking corn.

The survey finds however from basic industries little complaint is heard of unemployment. The Chicago stock yards have been operating with full force.

MARRIAGE MARKET SLUMPS

One Divorce is Sought For Almost Every Two Licenses Obtained— Few Arrests are Made

Statistics in the city of Rushville for the month of November reveals some interesting facts, and especially so at the office of Dr. J. B. Kinsinger, city health officer, who reports a clean record of contagious diseases for the month, For a city of 6,000 inhabitants it is remarkable to think that the month would go by without a single ease of some kind of contagion. November as a rule has a great deal of sickness, and in the last two years influenza has been reported in this month but so far there has not been a case reported. During the month of October there were three cases of contagion reported

The records at the city health office also show that during Novemher there were two deaths and four births in Rushville. The 'two deaths were babies under the age of six months, not an adult expiring in Rushville during the month.

Jumping from the city health office to the court bouse where marriage licenses are obtained, the county clerk reports a shortage of brides for November when only welve licenses were issued. This is quite a drop from the November 1919 was made, with the issuance of Hunting licenses broke the record November in the county clerk's flice, according to Loren Martin, the clerk. He is used a total of 248 icenses, more than ever issued durng a single month. For November ast year there were 168 issued.

For almost every two marriage censes issued during Noverber, anther couple would step in and want mits filed, and the 12 marriage

There were 17 civil suits filed, in ie circuit court during November, ncluding the five divorce actions. The record on the criminal docket n circuit court was good for the released a few days ago on bond.

In Squire Steel's court there rere ten criminal cases filed during November, which resulted in three nes being imposed. The other cases re pending trial or have been diswo civil suits filed.-

-In police court no arrest was nade during the month of Novemer and as there has not been a case that court for over two months, is likely that the key to the door as been lost.

The fire department answered four larms during November all of which royed to be fires. The total loss ustained in fires in Rushville durng the month was $660. The last as the 42nd alarm of the year.

Defense in Farlow Will Contest Suit Point Out Pohn D. Farlow Accepted $1.500 Note in Settlement

CLAIM HE HAD HIS SHARE

Although the defendants in the Farlow will case, Nathan R. Farlow of Arlington and Philorah A. Rust of Everett, Wash., which was compromised in Shelbyville where it was sent on change of venue, agreed to pay the plaintiff, their brother, John D. Farlow of near Moscow, $5,000, it is claimed that this share of last year, when the record for of the estate will amount to only about $2,600 by reason of the fact that he accepted in the settlement a note for $15,000 which had been running for seven years. In addition he has to pay his attorneys and the fees of his witnesses.

The will and deed, under which the estate of the late Washington Farlow was given to the defendants is unchanged under the compromise. They contended that they should have the estate by reason of the divorce. There were five divorce fact that their brother farmed their father's farm on the shares for ten or fifteen years previous to the elder Mr. Farlow's death and through this arrangement had obtained his share of the estate. They pointed out that the plaintiff in the will contest suit formerly held a lease nonth, with only one case being filed under which he claimed he was enand that one being against the resi- titled to all the proceeds of the lent of Fayette county who was farm. This lease was set aside in the local court August 4 on netition of Nathan Farlow and Mrs. Rust.

RESTRAINING ORDER ISSUED TAX LAWS REMAIN UNTIL MARCH 4

This is the Opinion of Senator Primrose Who Communicates With Senatorial Colleagues

FAVORS TAX REVISIONS

Says it Would be Unwise to Attempt to Change Taxes Until Republicans Get Complete Control,

Washington, Dec. 1-In the opin ion of Senator Penrose, Chairman of the Finance Committee, communiicated to Senatorial colleagues restraining order and the support here and to influential members of heard in the court Saturday morn-attempt should be made to repeal he excess profit tax or amend the revenue laws until the special session of Congress, which Presidentelect Harding has announced that he will call soon after March 4.

> oed by President Wilson, and, there- state during the last three weeks. fore, it would be a waste of time for Many hundred letters have been rethe Republicans to attempt to carry final months of the Wilson Administration.

It may be wise not only to repeal the excess profits tax, but to simplify tax forms for the calendar vea: 1920", said Senator Penrose, "but I opinion in Congress would favor untion schedules until the Republicans enter into full control of the Government. I myself favor simplification of the tax forms so that the taxpayer can know what he has to report. I hope that we may do this before the taxpayers are required to make_the 1920_report"...

Senator Penrose further indicated that no advantage could be gained by repealing the excess profits tax at the coming session, as Congress undoubtedly would not favor repealing the tax for the calendar year 1920, and there was sufficient time to repeal it at the special session, when other features of the revenue law would be considered and general revision might be undertaken.

There is such a demand from but siness men for repeal of the excess profits tax, supplemented by the recommendations of Treasury officials that there is reason to believe that Congress will not delay action until the whole subject of tax revision can be undertaken. It is the opinion of those concerned with taxation atters that this tax will be repealed early in the special session so that the tax need not be collected for mer of 1921, or, according to Secretary Houseton, it will be necessary to collect the tax for that calendar

What is puzzling the authorities is how to find a substitute for this tax. There is no argument against its repeal. In the Ways and Means Committee last session, R. C. Leffingwell, then Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, suggested that the income tax might be increased to provide revenues coming from exready to accept a tax on sales and real estate transfers. Many object to a sales tax.

Another suggestion is to repeal the profits tax without trying to supply another source of revenue to take its place. In such a case the expenditures of Government must be reduced to a minimum. Total $236.30 Rushville people continue to support liberally the campaign which is being made to sell one thousand dollars worth of double barred Red Cross Christmas Seals between now and the first of next year. The new method being used here this year is bearing fruit as no one has yet

refused to meet the per capita quota of fifty cents. Retail firms and manufacturers themselves and their employes and the employes are doing their bit in the fight on tuberculosis by taking their share of the little holiday stickers. Persons who are not visited in the personal solicitation which is now being made will have an opportunity to buy Seals at the postoffice and in other public places a few weeks before Christmas.

Governor James P. Goodrich, today called upon the people of Indiana to "contribute generously" to the 1920 Christmas Seal Sale. The governor, who is a member of the Marion County Tuberculosis Assocciation, issued a proclamation to the people of the state, in which he emphasized that "the happiness of any people and the safety of any nation-inevitably must rest on the solid foundation of Health."

The proclamation set aside Sunday, December 5, as Tuberculosis Sunday throughout Indiana and the week fellowing as Health Week for the State.

Rush county ministers will be asked to refer to the Seals campaign in their sermons next Sunday so as to focus more general attention on the effort.

Seventy-five percent of the proceeds from the sale of Seals remain in the place where they are purchased and are devoted to the eradication of tuberculosis and kindred diseases. The money derived from the sale in Rushville is applied to the visiting nurse fund which is the greatest single agency locally in the fight on the great white plague.

Local Farmers' Opportunity

It will be very much regretted if Rush county farmers do not take advantage of the opportunity which will be afforded them when the National Farm Bureau meets in annual convention in Indianapolis next week.

At their very front doors will foregather the leading agriculturalists of the greatest agricultural country in the world. They may rub elbows with the best farmers in America and profit by it.

The national convention will have for its speakers the leading thinkers and some of the most intensely practical men who have engaged in tilling the soil. There is no Rush county farmer who can not derive as he professes, it would seem the some benefit from hearing what oth- proper course for him to accept the

It is in truth a chance of a lifetime because another national convention of farmers will not be held in such close proximity to Rush county for many years.

The Associated Advertising Clubs of the world met in Indianapolis last summer and brought to that city the greatest gathering of business men ever assembled. The business men of Rushville did not then appreciate their opportunity and the convention was very poorly attended by them.

It is up to the farmers of Rush county to show that they want to move forward, that they are willing to absorb new ideas, by attending the convention.

The Indianapolis' News is very much exercised over the nullification of the state coal law, but no one here seems to be alarmed over the probable "disastrous" effects of the federal court order as it never proved to be of any benefit locally.

The sign language used by the Wall Street curb traders will disappear due to dealers moving inside but in spite of this many people will continue to believe in signs.

Eleven Candidates Appear to Make Bid For Berth on Recently Organized Odd Fellows Five

FIRST GAME FRIDAY NIGHT

The Odd Fellows basketball team held their first practice last night in the Modern Appliance building and eleven candidates were out to make a bid for a berth on the quintet. The team will play their first game Friday night with the Moscow and on Saturday night will play at Fairview. Both games will be away from home, and the first game here will be on Tuesday night, with the Carthage Independents.

The prospects are bright for a winning team here and the new gymnasium equals any in this part of the state, the building being thoroughly remodeled. Bleachers which will accommodate 600 people have been erected, and the lighting system changed. Two large stoves also will provide the heat.

The team will carry a full string of players, and only the best teams in the state will be booked later on, including the Em-Roes, Columbus, Greensburg, Connersville, Richmond and Kokomo. The games here will not conflict with the high school schedule. A plan is being started to have the high school team and the Odd Fellows team play a benefit game in the near future, the proceeds of which will be given over to the Red Cross Seal campaign.

HOOVER SENDS LETTER

Praises The National Tuberculosis Society For the Work in The Past Few Years

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 1,-Famous Americans everywhere are endorsing and lending their support to the 1920 Christmas Seal Sale. Never before have prominent Hoosiers responded so generously to the anmual call of the anti-tuberculosis leaders for assistance in the holiday Seal Sale, from the proceeds of which is financed the disease prevention work throughout Indiana.

Today M. A. Auerbach, executive secretary of the Indiana Tuberculosis Association, made public endorsements of the Seal Sale from Herbert Hoover, head of the American Relief Association, Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor; Joseph Oliver, of Ontario, Can., Grand Sire of the Sovereign Grand Lodge of the Independent order of Odd Fellows: Chesley R. Perry, Secretary General of the International Association of Rotary Clubs, and others.

Mr. Hoover, in a letter to Charles J. Hatfield, of the National Association, has written:

"I am very glad to avail myself of the opportunity you give me of expressing my opinion in regard to your coming sale of Christmas Seals for the National Tuberculosis Association. There is perhaps, no problem of a health nature that we have to meet as a nation that is more serious than that of tuberculosis. The National Tuberculosis Association has been and is still making a superb fight against the ravages of this disease and it deserves the support of every citizen who wishes to see a real improvement in the health statistics of his community and this nation. I wish you every success in your sale of Christmas Seals and in the splendid effort which the sale of those Seals will allow you to con

"Not So Long Ago" played all season at the Booth and Nora Bayes Theafres. Mr. Richman's comedy and Fred Malatesta and Clarence proved one of the most fascinating of its kind in years, this, on account of his captivating personages, its unexpected turns and twists and its frank make-believe atmosphere. "Not So Long Ago" may not be exactly real life, for it is more delightful than real life would be. To this naturally intriguing play has been added exceptional beauty and real talent. It is a fantasy of youth love and romance of the early 70's Among the important members of a wholly admirable cast are Eva Le Gallienne, Sidney Blackmer, May Kennedy, Betty Linley, Thomas Mitchell, B. The Most Competitive Business in the World

—said Judge Fred W. Preeman recently. Continuing, he added: "The oil business today in all its phases from production to refining, to marketing, is the most competitive business in the world."

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is but one of 16,000 organizations interested in the petroleum industry in the United States. Each of these is performing a useful service or it would not be in business. Competition eliminates the unfit in the oil business, as it eliminates the unfit in every other line of endeavor.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is here today because it has made good.

The energy of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is concentrated on making good in a big, constructive way.

The territory served is probably the most important farming territory in the world. The Company's opportunity for service is great, and the need for its service is ever present.

Every year the farmers of the Middle West need petroleum products in greater volume. They demand preducts of standard quality, delivered at regular intervals and at reasonable prices. Only through a complete organization of men, trained by years of experience, can so complicated and important a service be rendered.

Buy Beaver Board that is BEAVER BOARD

You want better walls and ceilings, in your new home, in present waste space, or to replace cracked plaster and dingy wallpaper. So you ask for Beaver Board, the original wallboard, that has been building better walls and ceilings for a dozen years.

But do you know that inferior wallboards are often sold as Beaver Board? They may look like Beaver Board, feel like Beaver Board, and even claim to be as good as Beaver Board. But they can't give Beaver Board results .-

Be sure to get what you ask for. The Beaver trademark on the back of every panel of genuine Beaver Board is there for your protection. Look for it.

R. Wilmer Bolling Brother-in-law of President Wilson Testifies Before Congressional Committee

NEVER RECEIVED BRIBE

New York, Dec. 1-R. Wilmer Bolling, brother-in-law of President Wilson, sweepingly denied the accusations made by the congressional committee investigating the shipping board, that he had ever received a bribe in the placing of board con-

The direct relation with Tucker Sands, former cashier of the Commercial Bank of Washington, he said, seemed to have been responsible for starting of the rumors of the alleged bribe. Bolling stated that he had received anonymous letters throughout the year of 1919 after he had refused to intervene with President Wilson in behalf of Sands who was about to be or had been indicted the on charges made by bank exami-

He said Sands called him by telephone in the year 1919 and urged him to help Sand. He said he visited the bank officials and then he was urged to intervene with the president. Sands seemed to be greatly adjutant.

"It is then I took him to see Senator Owen, of Oklahoma," he said. The senator sympathized with him but said he could do nothing.

Bolling stated that while he was in Europe anonymous letters were received by McAdoo, which directed him to ask Bolling about the $40,000 which he received from the shipping board. It was signed "M", Bolling said.
